

Fine Canvas Prints

Fine Canvas Prints is proud to announce its latest fine art digital imaging service: The Cruse Museum Scanner.

Designed for archiving fine art objects, there are presently less than five Cruse Scanners of this caliber in the world, and this special portable model is the first of its kind in the Americas. Cruse Scanners are found in use by such prestigious organizations as the Getty Museum and the Vatican Secret Archives, and are used because of their ability to capture an image that maintains the integrity of the original in every respect.

Fine Canvas Prints is now offering this fine art imaging service to artists and institutions in the US.

Cruse Fine Art Imaging offers:

- Process maintains true color integrity, ICC compliant capture process.
- Can scan originals as large as 58"x96" in one pass, larger items can also be accommodated with no quality loss.
- Optimum focus, every time.
- Resolution up to 1000 ppi true optical, at 1:1 physical scale.
- Cost effective rate of only 25 cents per square inch with a minimum 200 shop credit per order, ask for details

- Portable, available for on-site scanning for $3500.00 a day plus miles at $1.50 per mile mobilization cost outside of Phoenix Metro Area.
- Designed for museum service, to meet insurance standards in handling irreplaceable artifacts.
- Custom fine art reproduction services available.

For more details on our Cruse Fine Art Imaging Services, please feel free to speak with us!

1.602.492.3770

info@finecanvasprints.com

Detailed View

Fine Canvas Prints

Introduces Cruse Scanner Art
Imaging Service

Winter Sun Fan Dancer, Baje Whitethorne (Cruse Scan)

